Stock buzz

TATA STEEL SHARES RISE ON POSITIVE GLOB

Metal stocks were in the spotlight today after Bloomberg reported that the European Union is preparing to increase tariffs on steel imports to 50% and significantly lower the quota levels. This move could benefit Tata Steel Europe. As a result, shares of Tata Steel and other metal stocks rose between 3% and 6%, while the Nifty Metal Index was the top sectoral gainer, rising 1.8%.

SEBI'S INSIGHTS

What is an open offer?

Under the SEBI rule open offer is a mandatory requirement for a company that acquires a significant stake, usually 25% or more, in a listed company to make an offer to buy additional shares from the public shareholders. This rule is designed to protect minority investors by giving them a chance to sell their shares at a fair price when there is a big change in control or ownership. For example, if a company or investor buys 30% of a listed company's shares, SEBI requires them to make an open offer to purchase at least 26% more shares from the public, to prevent sudden takeovers without giving other shareholders a chance to exit.
